TRINITY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 903 FOREST AVENUE, HENRICO, VA 23229

Pastor's Corner

June 2017

Dear Trinity,

Grace and peace to you all in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord.

Immediately after my sermon on the 23rd Psalm a few weeks ago, I attended a United Methodist Ministers' Convocation here in Richmond in which a brilliant professor of ancient Hebrew and Ugaritic preached on a certain shepherd psalm.

There's nothing quite so humbling as putting forth some work in public—only to have an expert come and show you what you missed and what's really going on.

The shepherd psalm was, of course, Psalm 23, and the brilliant professor was the Rev. Dr. Joel LeMon, associate professor of Old Testament at Emory University's Candler School of Theology, and a Virginia Conference colleague and musical co-conspirator of mine. (Our Dixieland jam session on trumpet and clarinet at Convocation made all the humbling a little more palatable!)

I wanted to share two of Joel's insights into Psalm 23 so that you can have a richer experience of this shepherd psalm in these days:

- First, in 23:3, "The Lord leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake." Joel points out that the right paths here come from the Hebrew word for grooves or ruts: namely, ox-cart ruts worn deep into the earth by the passage of so many prior travelers.
- Second, in 23:6, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord my whole life long." Joel notes that God's goodness and mercy pursue the psalmist back into the house of the Lord—the temple, the holy place—on a permanently regular basis.

Let me confess why this matters so much to me: in times of social upheaval, political disarray, and personal confusion, I find myself searching for the wisdom of my mentors and the paths of my ancestors in the faith. When the road more travelled today is one of shallow contrarianism and false equivalence, I'm looking for the deeper way of openness, hopefulness, and truth-telling that the saints trod before us. In the words of Joel LeMon, I'm looking for a righteous groove.

And when such discord discourages discourse in so many of our public and private institutions, you can bet, dear church, that I find God's good grace pursuing me and pushing me back toward this remarkable holy place we call church community. Church is a tremendous, tremulous laboratory experiment: we do not share uniformity, but we do share unity. We who are many share a common life built around one faith, one Lord, and one baptism. We do not diminish our differences in culture or politics, but we trust that the love we share in Jesus Christ is a stronger unifier than all that could divide us.

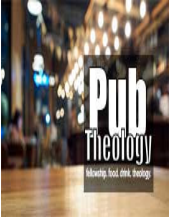

There are plenty more dark valleys ahead of us. May goodness and mercy pursue you back to this house of the Lord until we meet again.

Confirmation Sunday is June 4

Speaking of our common life in the house of the Lord, Trinity will welcome 23 new members on Sunday, June 4 as this year's confirmation class takes its membership vows. The class and their mentors have been meeting since January. They have learned about United Methodist history, our sacraments and our creeds, just to mention a few topics. The class served together with their mentors at Shalom Farms on Saturday, May 6. Please be sure to make welcome our newest members on June 4.

played fun at some of our youths funny habits and embarrassing stories. For the finale, the youth thanked Shaw and Ann Marie Blackmon for their wonderful service over the past two years! They received a youth photo collage, a weekend away and $1325 for their favorite charity.

Thank You Notes

Dear Trinity friends,

Thank you so much for your kind notes and expressions of love in the death of my sister Lindsey Christiansen. Nearly 15 years ago Lindsey and Charles Staples were in the Trinity Concert Series together. Lindsey had such fond memories of Trinity and great appreciation of Charles. I am deeply appreciative of your compassion.

John Peters

Dear Trinity Family,

Thank you for your prayers, calls, cards, flowers, love and support during my father's time in hospice and after his death. We are so grateful to be a part of such a loving and caring faith community.

In Christian love,

Ashley Love

Trinity United Methodist Church,

We want to thank the Trinity members for the outpouring of love and words of condolences shared with us during our time of loss. Pam affected the lives of so many through her devotion to Trinity and the 4th Graders. Until her cancer took a rapid turn for the worse in January, her main goal was to be there every Sunday and do what she could, given her condition. So many members have come up to us and expressed how she touched their lives and that of their children. We are truly blessed to be a part of this wonderful congregation.

Love to all,

Leo Rutledge, Bonnie Edwards (and family),

Warren Rutledge (and family)

Update for The Hermitage

Please remember the Samaritan fund drive which we promote between Mother's Day and Father's Day. The Samaritan Fund assures residents at our United Methodist Homes to be able to stay there should they outlive their resources. Envelopes for this offering are available in the sanctuary pews.

The Hermitage continues to appreciate all donations made to the Country Store. As you clean out closets, remember clothing or household items can be delivered there at 1600 Westwood Avenue or taken to Trinity in the area designated just outside the balcony entrance. Tax receipts for those items are located at The Hermitage as well as in the church office in the appropriate cubbyhole. If you have items of furniture that you would like to have picked up, call Teedie Johnson (264-5337) or Hilda Taylor (275-2955).

All God's Children Camp

Trinity members will again have a special summer 'Opportunity to Serve' by providing transportation for children attending the All God's Children Camp. This year the camp will be held June 18-23 at Camp Chanco on the James, near Williamsburg. The campers arrive at 3:30 Sunday, June 18 and depart by 2:30 Friday, June 23. We will provide directions and in all but one case, the drivers will make only one stop to pick up the campers. Trinity follows the Child Protection guidelines of the two-adult rule for drivers. To volunteer as a driver or for more information on the camp, contact Mary Hetzel 282-5872 hetzelmary@comcast.net or Camp Director Lori Smith littlelori@gmail.com.
